11 year old author gets order form Hasting Entertainment

(Whitefish, Montana) Child author Baxter Owen Graham has broken into the big time. Earlier this year Graham self published a childrens picture book titled, Old King Stinky Toes. The book has been a regional success, says Robert Graham, Baxters father, but this order from Hastings Entertainment is especially rewarding. Hastings is a leading multimedia entertainment retailer that currently operates approximately 150 superstores in 20 states. The buyer at Hastings has been overwhelmingly supportive in selecting a self published book written by such a young author, says Graham. He hopes his sons work will be an inspiration to others, that creative thinking, writing and art by young people can be supported by large companies is encouraging. Check with your local bookseller or visit www.oldkingstinkytoes.com for more information about Baxter Owen Graham and Old King Stinky Toes.
